Emma Cunningham

Emma Cunningham speaks in the language of materiality. Her fine eye and attention to detail in shaping and casting recycled metal perfectly sets off and accentuates natural materials such as stone, wood, fresh-water pearls, shell and seeds. This assemblage style is seen in both her 2-D and jewellery practices.

Inspired by ancient mythologies and folklore Emma uses nature and birdlife to highlight the importance of reflecting on our history to preserve our future.

Education:

1995 - Bachelor of Visual Arts, Auckland
1998 - Postgraduate Study at the Frink School of Sculpture, England

Notable Achievements:

Emma has been awarded several national and international art awards including being a finalist in the National Contemporary Art Awards and Runner-up in the Norsewear National Art Award. Her work is held in public and private art collections all over NZ and overseas. Published in several magazines such as Elle, Glamour, and NZ House and Garden

New York Fashion Week

Emma was selected to show her jewellery on the runway of New York Fashion Week in 2023.
