...from visionary walks

Narrative around the Winter, composed in handcrafted prints.

Last year we spent the most of Winter in Whanganui. My day started with walking our German Shepherd Sora before 6am. It was always pitch dark, but the air was fresh and crisp. We didn't go that far, and I was mostly contemplating. I often saw the shadows of us, and Sora stopped in the middle of the walks and at something that lay before her with a contented stare. These are the stories I was envisaging at those times.

I handcrafted those images into linocut prints. I have added a few touches of Whanganui, as well as feelings of the cold Winter mornings.

I am a mixed media artist; printmaking is one of my art practices. I prioritize details and mark-makings in my prints.

The prints in this exhibition are editioned. Further editions are available for most of the prints. Please ask a staff member about available prints if your favorite print is marked sold.
